AN IMPORTANT DOCUMENT.

We publish this morning one of the most important documents ever issued by a President of the United States, and one of the consequences of which cannot fail to be momentous. It is a proclamation by President Lincoln quoting the most extreme passages of the confiscation act and the additional article of war passed by the last Congress, and orders their immediate and vigorous enforcement by all officers holding authority under the United States government. They contain the following points:

First. All United States military or naval officers are prohibited, on penalty of dismissal from the service, from returning fugitive slaves, so matter whom they may belong to, loyal or disloyal.

Second. Slaves of rebels are declared free, whether escaping to our lines or found by our troops in districts occupied by us, on the ground that they are captives of war.

Third. Under no circumstances shall a fugitive slave be delivered up unless the claimant first made oath that he has not participated in the rebellion.

These provisions are so sweeping in their character that, if properly carried out, they will create a revolution in some parts of the rebel States. The President also gives notice of certain recommendations, of a very important character, which he intends to make to the next Congress, but the above points will do the whole work effectually without any further legislation if the war should be carried on vigorously.

THE WAR TO DESTROY THE REBEL-LION.

The people of the loyal States are looking eagerly for a vigorous offensive campaign which shall at least restore to us the territory held by the power of the Union throughout the past summer. The rebels are now improving every moment in gathering supplies in the Shenandoah valley, and in making salt on the Kanawha. Both these districts are peculiarly valuable to them. They gave us six months notice of their intention to seize them, yet no sufficient preparations were made to defend them, and they were taken as Jackson promised. The want of salt would have been twice as pressing this year as it was last if no new supplies had been opened to them but the use of the works at Kanawha will give them a very large quantity, and lessen the price one-third at Richmond. Even worse than this is their reoccupation of Tennessee, and Kentucky just as the crops of the year come to be available. A singular and inexplicable paralysis appears to have fallen on the management of our forces in these States and it is not easy to say what may or may not remain in our hands there a month hence.

The great purpose of the rebels in their invasion of Maryland was to occupy us with defensive operations, and to shift from their shoulders to ours the peculiar labors of such a position. They knew that to threaten Cincinnati and Philadelphia would afford chances of diverting the people of two States, at least, from direct operations to put down the rebellion. They hope still to keep us so engaged until the proper time for a fall campaign shall pass away, and believe that the work of driving them across the Potowmack is all that we will undertake for some months to come. This scheme was well laid, and it has so far been executed with energy on their part, but already its main purpose has failed, and we shall soon assault them with an accumulation of forces such as has never before been put into the field. The fact that they are fully up to our front along the whole line through Virginia and Kentucky is favorable to us, not against us. No long marches are necessary, no heavy transportation of supplies is required.

We can operate from our own proper base directly, and if we move with promptness, the decisive battles which will seal the fate of the rebellion can be fought within sight of Washington and in the heart of Kentucky. Shall not the rebels be gratified with an early trial of strength—a trial in which we have every incident of advantage on our part, and can employ the whole of the tremendous force called into the field since the first of July?

Another winter spent in preparation on our part, with a prospect of an early quarrel afterwards, and the final possession of Maryland. This calculation is doomed to disappointment. The call for six hundred thousand men meant a vigorous, immediate, overwhelming military demonstration. The purpose of the President in calling them out, is the purpose of the whole country and it cannot be defeated or delayed.

The full number will be furnished, and it is hardly possible that more than fifty thousand of these will join the great army of parades before all get in the field. If but three hundred thousand men remain in arms from previous calls there will still be eight hundred and fifty thousand in the armies gathered to subdue the rebellion. It is not possible that these vast and unprecedented preparations shall bear no fruit.

The Shenandoah valley can be recovered, the Rappahannock can be crossed again, and the rebels be driven from every field within reach of the Potowmack, the Kanawha, the Cumberland and Tennessee rivers, and the Mississippi. When we work to again these it must be thoroughly done. The rebel forces must be beaten, and, if possible, be scattered or captured. The second time they are driven back toward the heart of the Gulf States must be the decisive test, and the crushing movement, if they are to be crushed.

It is evident that the attempt to occupy us with defensive ideas has had its effect, that the relative position of the contending parties is changed. It is not enough that Cincinnati and Philadelphia are pronounced safe. They ought never to have been in danger. Their best defenses are west of the Potowmack, and south of the Kentucky line and the Cumberland Gap. It is time to resume operations at these points, and to transfer the theatre of war to the homes of the authors of the war.

LOCAL NEWS.

Court of Justice.

TUESDAY, Sept. 24.

The Court of Justice opened yesterday with a small docket of criminal business growing out of a "scrivener" that occurred on Sunday last, on Thames street, near the foot of Holland. About the time of the occurrence, a funeral in the neighborhood was being solemnized, which was greatly interrupted and annoyed, thereby.

It appears that sturdy belligerent individuals, thinking that in the times of "wars and rumors of wars," they might as well indulge in a little "strategic" on their own account, got up a melee, in which fists were trumps instead of "spades," and it all resulted in the usual sequence of black eyes and bloody noses, and the final result was that in this court to-day, one Thomas Lawton was taken from "durance ville" where he has passed his time in "chowing the end of bitter recollection since Sunday, and was brought before Judge Turner to answer to a complaint for a violation of the City Ordinance against revelling in the streets.

He therefore was arraigned and plead not guilty. The City Solicitor put several witnesses upon the stand, and the result was that the Court pronounced Thomas to be guilty in "manner and form as charged," and sentenced him to pay a fine of ten dollars and costs. This was paid and Thomas left the Court, a "sadder if not a wiser" man.

There was another party in the warrant who is not as yet arrested, as he has so far succeeded in eluding the police.

Complaint No. 2 was for violation of the same Ordinance, and was made against Patrick Griffin and Patrick Quinn. Their offence was committed at a very late hour on Sunday night, when they were heard making a great noise in Callender Avenue. They were traced out by the police, and taken in charge, having upon them the bloody marks of a little more "strategic." The City Solicitor put in the evidence for the States, and the two Patricks were asked by the Court to make good their defense; but the brace of Patricks having "nary a word" to say, were both fined ten dollars and costs, with an additional word of advice by way of a "lunng" that they should enlist and go where indulging in their fighting propensities would not subject them to a fine, but would contrariwise redound to their honor and glory.

BUN AWAY.—Last evening as Mr. Edward Barker, who drives an express wagon, was coming down from the hill with a load of trunks for the New York Boat, some part of the harness broke, and the horse started in the vicinity of the Unitarian Church, and ran furiously down Mill Street.

In crossing the gutter, near the Exchange Bank, the jar threw Mr. Barker out with great violence upon the pavement, and the trunks which were piled well upon the wagon, fell on Mr. Barker, and added greatly to his injuries. The horse continued on down the Ferry Wharf, where the express wagon came in contact with the wagon of Purry and Stevens, standing in front of their store, and demolished it, and put an end to the career of the runaway.

Mr. Barker, who is a very industrious, hard working and honest man, is we are sorry to have to say, very badly injured. No bones were broken, but the flesh was stripped from them, almost the entire length of his body. His face also was badly cut, the wheel having passed directly over it.

Mrs. Butler and Cotton were called, and we doubt not, every thing was done to render the situation of the injured man, comfortable—but, at best, he can not but be a great sufferer, and one with whom very many in our community will deeply sympathize.

ABOTT'S GREAT HISTORY OF THE REBELLION.—We have seen the proprietor of a work which is to be published in two volumes by Henry Bill, of Norwich, Conn. The History of the civil war in America, by J. S. C. Abbott. The first volume is to be published in a few weeks and another at the close of the war. Each volume is to contain 450 pages, to be illustrated with numerous steel engravings of the various Generals and Battles, which are of themselves worth the price of the book. The gentlemanly Agent, Ralph Coats is canvassing Newport County, and judging from the patronage he has received thus far, we predict for him great success. The press almost invariably speaks in the highest terms of the book as one that will be the standard work, and will be referred to for ages. The author has spent much time in Washington, and has been afforded every facility by the government for obtaining the most correct information.

As the work will be sold only by subscription we advise every loyal man to subscribe for a copy as it can only be obtained through this Agent. They will never be for sale in book stores. It should be in every family. The bare name of the author is enough to recommend the work aside from any cogency of our cause.

The messengers despatched by acting Governor Paddock to the northern settlement of Kansas some 200 miles from Omaha, report that the Indians have entirely subsided, and that the settlers have returned to their homes. There are now no hostile Indians within the limits of Kansas. There is not the remotest probability of any trouble to the settlers in any section from Indian depredations.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

A PROCLAMATION.

1. ABRAHAM LINCOLN, President of the United States of America, and Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy thereof, do hereby proclaim and declare that hereafter, as heretofore, the war will be prosecuted for the object of practically restoring the constitutional relations between the United States and the people thereof in which States that relation is or may be suspended or disturbed, that it is my purpose upon the next meeting of Congress, to again recommend the adoption of a practical measure tendering pecuniary aid to the free acceptance or rejection of all slave States so called, the people whereof may not then be in rebellion against the United States, and which States may then have voluntarily adopted, or may thereafter voluntarily adopt, the immediate or gradual emancipation within their limits and the efforts to colonize persons of African descent with their consent, upon the continent or elsewhere, with the previously obtained consent of the governments existing there, will be continued: That on the first day of January, in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and sixty-three, all persons held as slaves within any State, or any designated part of a State, the people whereof shall be in rebellion against the United States, shall be henceforward and forever free, and the executive government of the United States, including the military and naval authorities thereto, will recognize and maintain the freedom of such persons, and will do no act or acts to prevent such persons, or any of them, in any efforts they make for their actual freedom; that the executive will, on the 1st of January aforesaid, by proclamation designate the States and parts of States, if any, in which the people thereof, respectively shall then be rebellion against the United States; and henceforward and forever free, and the executive government of the United States, including the military and naval authorities thereto, will recognize and maintain the freedom of such persons, and will do no act or acts to prevent such persons, or any of them, in any efforts they make for their actual freedom; that the executive will, on the 1st of January aforesaid, by proclamation designate the States and parts of States, if any, in which the people thereof, respectively shall then be rebellion against the United States; and henceforward and forever free, and the executive government of the United States, including the military and naval authorities thereto, will recognize and maintain the freedom of such persons, and will do no act or acts to prevent such persons, or any of them, in any efforts they make for their actual freedom; that the executive will, on the 1st of January aforesaid, by proclamation designate the States and parts of States, if any, in which the people thereof, respectively shall then be rebellion against the United States; and henceforward and forever free, and the executive government of the United States, including the military and naval authorities thereto, will recognize and maintain the freedom of such persons, and will do no act or acts to prevent such persons, or any of them, in any efforts they make for their actual freedom; that the executive will, on the 1st of January aforesaid, by proclamation designate the States and parts of States, if any, in which the people thereof, respectively shall then be rebellion against the United States; and henceforward and forever free, and the executive government of the United States, including the military and naval authorities thereto, will recognize and maintain the freedom of such persons, and will do no act or acts to prevent such persons, or any of them, in any efforts they make for their actual freedom; that the executive will, on the 1st of January aforesaid, by proclamation designate the States and parts of States, if any, in which the people thereof, respectively shall then be rebellion against the United States; and henceforward and forever free, and the executive government of the United States, including the military and naval authorities thereto, will recognize and maintain the freedom of such persons, and will do no act or acts to prevent such persons, or any of them, in any efforts they make for their actual freedom; that the executive will, on the 1st of January aforesaid, by proclamation designate the States and parts of States, if any, in which the people thereof, respectively shall then be rebellion against the United States; and henceforward and forever free, and the executive government of the United States, including the military and naval authorities thereto, will recognize and maintain the freedom of such persons, and will do no act or acts to prevent such persons, or any of them, in any efforts they make for their actual freedom; that the executive will, on the 1st of January aforesaid, by proclamation designate the States and parts of States, if any, in which the people thereof, respectively shall then be rebellion against the United States; and henceforward and forever free, and the executive government of the United States, including the military and naval authorities thereto, will recognize and maintain the freedom of such persons, and will do no act or acts to prevent such persons, or any of them, in any efforts they make for their actual freedom; TO HORSE OWNERS.

Dr. Sweet's Infallible Liniment

FOR HORSES

Is unrivaled by any, and in all cases of Lameness, arising from Sprain, Rupture or Wringing, its effect is magical and certain. Harness or Saddle Galls, Scratches, Mange, &c., will also cure speedily. Skin and Ringbone may be easily prevented and cured in their incipient stages, but confirmed cases are beyond the possibility of a radical cure. No case of the kind, however, is so desperate or hopeless but it may be alleviated by this Liniment, and its faithful application will always remove the Lameness, and enable the horse to travel with comparative ease.

Every horse owner should have this ready at hand, for its timely use at the first appearance of Lameness will effect a cure, and render the animal fit for service, to which all horses are liable, and which render so many otherwise valuable horses nearly worthless.

TARRANT'S

EFFERVESCENT Seltzer Aperient.

THIS VALUABLE AND POPULAR MEDICINE

HAS BEEN USED, APPROVED AND PRESCRIBED BY THOUSANDS OF THE BEST PHYSICIANS THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY, IN THEIR DAILY PRACTICE, AS THE MOST EFFICIENT AND AGREEABLE.

Saline Aperient,

And with the best effect in

Bilious and Febrile Diseases, Costiveness,

Sick Head-Ache, Nausea, Loss of Appetite,

Indigestion, Acidity, of the Stomach, Torpidity of the Liver, Gout, Rheumatic Affectations, Gripe, Piles.

And all Complaints where

A GENTLE APERIENT OR PURGATIVE IS REQUIRED.

As a substitute for, and eminently preferable to the many Mineral Water and Saline Purgatives in general use.

It will be found invaluable to Physicians in charge of Hospitals those attached to the Army and Navy, and to Public Institutions, Soldiers, Sailors, Travellers by Land and Sea, and Masters of Vessels, especially all going to hot climates.

Persons of Sedentary habits and those of delicate organization, of both sexes, will find that the "TARRANT'S APERIENT" mild, Refreshing and Invigorating in its effects, while other medicines are harsh and prostrating.

It is in the form of a Powder, carefully put up to bottles, to keep in any climate, and merely requires water poured upon it, to produce a delightful delicious beverage.

Manufactured only by

TARRANT & CO.,

No. 278 Greenwich St. cor. Warren Street,

NEW YORK.

For sale by Druggists generally. Jy 21-19.

ECONOMY IN WEALTH!

CURE YOUR COUGH FOR ONE DIME.

The best and cheapest Household Remedy in the world.

MADAME ZADOC PORTER'S GREAT COUGH REMEDY.

MADAME ZADOC PORTER'S CUREATIVE BALSAM is warranted to cure, according to the directions, to cure in all cases, Coughs, Colds, Whooping Coughs, Asthma, and all affections of the Throat and Lungs.

MADAME ZADOC PORTER'S BALSAM is prepared with all the requisite care and skill from a combination of the best remedies the vegetable kingdom affords. Its remedial qualities are based on its power to assist the healthy and vigorous circulation of the blood, through the lungs. It is not a violent remedy, but excellent—warming, searching and effective; can be taken by the oldest person or youngest child.

MADAME ZADOC PORTER'S BALSAM has been used by the public for over 15 years, and has acquired its present sale simply by being recommended by those who have used it, to their affected friends and others.

NOTE.—MADAME ZADOC PORTER'S CUREATIVE BALSAM is sold at a price which brings it in the reach of every one to keep it convenient for use. The timely use of a single bottle will prove to be worth 100 times its cost.

NOTICE.—SAVE YOUR MONEY!!!—Do not be persuaded to purchase at $1. to $1. which do not communicate the virtues of a Dime Bottle of Madame Porter's Cureative Balsam, the cost of manufacturing which is as great as that of almost any other medicine; and the very low price at which it is sold, makes the profit to the seller apparently small, and unprincipled dealers will continually seek to sell it at a higher price, which will be larger, unless the customers insist upon having Madame Porter's Cureative Balsam, price 10 cts., and large bottles at 20 cts., and no one other. If you cannot get it at one store you can at another.

THE SPECIFIC PILL.

A SPECIFIC REMEDY FOR

Spermatorrhœa or Seminal Weakness, and Genital Irritability in either Sex.

This Malady, the terrible consequences of which are too well known to require more than a bare allusion to them, is one of the most insidious, and therefore dangerous, of all the long catalogue of human ills. It seizes the very springs of life, rapidly undermines the constitution, and sinks the unhappy victim into infidelity and a premature grave! From one to six boxes of the SPECIFIC PILL are sufficient to effect a permanent cure in the most aggravated cases; whether Constitutional, or arising from Abuse or Excess.

It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing all cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney, and other complaints of Stomach and Bowels.

A Wm. Glass Pill will remove drooping spirits, and restore the weakly, nervous, sickly to health.

Stimulated convulsions, and those subject to Delirium, through the too free use of Liquor, &c., will immediately restore the happy effects of "H. S. Porter's Specific Pill."

It cures all skin diseases, will remove Bad Spots, Hair-burn, Indigestion, creates an appetite, cures Dyspepsia and Colic, removes Flatulence, Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Obstructions will be relieved by a dose or two, and an effectual cure by the use of a few bottles.

A dose will give instant relief to the most violent Headache, Nausea or Bad Feelings, through excesses. Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions will find a dose occasionally will return them to health and strength.

During pregnancy it is most efficacious in removing disagreeable sensations internally, and is invaluable in removing generally the intestinal organs.
